Behaviour Principles at Cobham Primary School

These are the behaviours that we role model as leaders of learning, that we teach to our children to use within the school and wider community. We aim for the children to show tolerance for people, cultures, beliefs and actions that they may not understand and to show respect for others and least not themselves. We expect everyone to know that working together will make us unified and give us strength in our opinions and actions, whilst always aiming to be truthful and honest in every thought, act and deed. Our Trust Week in January 2015 raised all this issues and these are the principles that we believe and act upon each and every day at Cobham Primary School.
